

Lines Into and Through Head-Space

For someone at an early stage of understanding their art practice:

- Sit comfortably for a few minutes, in a place where nobody wants anything from you.
- Gently close your eyes, or soften them.
- Visualise lines entering your head-space from all directions, connecting disparate ideas and interests.